2. How to get green certificates for renewable energy projects in Romania

Following the implementation of Directive 2009/28/CE on the promotion of the use of energy from renewable sources (“Directive 2009/28/CE”), the Romanian target for the share of energy from renewable sources in gross final consumption of energy in 2020 was established at 24%.

The most significant recent amendments to be adopted by the Romanian Parliament on 2010 (currently under the procedure of being promulgated by the Romanian President) to Law

no. 220/2008 for the promotion of the use of energy from renewable sources ("Law 220") are:

Romania's targets in terms of energy produced from renewable sources reported to the gross domestic consumption of electricity have been increased in comparison to prior percentages, as follows: 8.3% for 2010; 16% for 2015 and 20% for 2020 instead of 33% for 2010; 35% for 2015 and 38% for 2020.

The number of green certificates received by the producers depending upon the renewable source that they use has been amended as follows:

- three (3) green certificates (instead of one (1)) for each 1MWh produced and delivered by the new hydropower plants and two (2) green certificates (instead of one (1)) for each 1MWh produced and delivered in the refurbished plants;
- until the end of 2017 (instead of 2015) two (2) green certificates and one (1) green certificate as of 2018 (instead of 2016) for each MWh generated using wind power;
- six (6) green certificates (instead of four (4)) for each MWh generated through solarpower;
- In addition to those three (3) green certificates granted by the elder draft of Law 220/2008 for each 1MWh delivered in the electricity grid by the producers from biomass, biogas, gas of waste fermentation and geothermal energy, the producers of electricity through high efficiency cogeneration plants will supplementary benefit of one (1) green certificate for each MWh generated and supplied.

The period for which the value of the green certificates will be traded on the market has been increased from 2008 through 2025 (instead of 2014) and as of 2011, the trading value of these green certificates will be indexed with the EU 27 average inflation rate recorded in December of the previous year by the National Energy Regulatory Agency. The value of the green certificates which will be traded on the market has been preserved from the Law 220/2008, namely within a band with a will with minimum trading value of EUR 27 and a maximum trading value of EUT 55 per green certificate.

The financial incentives for renewable energy producers such as exemption from excise tax payment, 50% tax reduction for issuance of authorizations/permits relating to the implementation of investment projects in the field, exemption or reduction of taxes on reinvested profit for a period of three (3) years from the commissioning of the project, etc. have been repealed.

Any supplier that fails to fulfill the annual quota obligations must pay the equivalent value of the green certificates which were not purchased at a premium of EUR 110 for each certificate not purchased (as compared to EUR 70 under the Law 220/2008 previously).

3. Bio landbouw in Roemenie een opportuniteit

Gelegen aan de Zwarte Zee en met ruim 22 miljoen inwoners en bijna 8 keer zo groot als België en 6 keer Nederland is Roemenië vanouds een belangrijke landbouwproducent. Een kleine 15 miljoen hectare is in principe geschikt voor de landbouw. Sinds het verdwijnen van Ceausescu wordt verwoed gepoogd de agrarische sector ingrijpend te hervormen. Dit heeft ertoe geleid dat inmiddels ongeveer 85% van de landbouwgrond in private handen is. Vrijwel alle grond van de voormalige coöperaties is teruggeven aan de voormalige eigenaren: meer dan 5 miljoen Roemenen. De republiek Roemenië ligt in het zuidoosten van Europa aan de Zwarte Zee. In het zuiden vormt de Donau de grens met Joegoslavië en Bulgarije. De Donau is, na de Wolga, de langste rivier van Europa. In het noorden grenst Roemenië aan de Sovjet-Unie, in het westen aan Hongarije. Roemenië bestaat uit een zestal grote landstreken. In het zuiden van het land ligt in het stroomgebied van de Donau het laag gelegen grote landstreek Walachije. De Donau heeft vele zijrivieren. De bodem is daar erg vruchtbaar. In deze streek is veel akkerbouw. De belangrijkste producten zijn maïs en tarwe. Meer bepaald Dolj was vroeger een to provincie v.w.b. graanteelt en groenteteelt (bron instituut statistiek – studie PBS Worldwide bvba). Als men gaat investeren in Roemenie dan moet men deze streek zeker bekijken. Investeren in landbouw en landbouwgronden in Roemenie lonen zeker de moeite.

De biologische landbouw in Roemenië staat aan het begin van haar ontwikkeling. In april 2000 heeft de Roemeense overheid biologische landbouw door middel van wetgeving geïnstitutionaliseerd, maar er bestaat nog geen officieel erkende controle-organisatie voor biologische producten. De controles worden nu nog uitgevoerd door internationaal werkende organisaties uit West-Europa. Op dit moment zijn er naar schatting enkele tientallen biologisch werkende akkerbouw- en groenteteeltbedrijven.

De grotere akkerbouwbedrijven hiervan beslaan gemiddeld wel 500 hectare. De drijfveer om biologisch te gaan werken komt deels voort uit het bewustzijn dat niet dezelfde negatieve effecten van te intensieve landbouw, zoals in West Europa, herhaald moeten worden. Echter, ook uit het ontbreken van koopkracht van de boeren is een stimulans. Het ontbreekt hen eenvoudig aan de middelen die nodig zijn voor het gebruik van dure kunstmest en bestrijdingsmiddelen. Een derde motief om biologisch te gaan werken is de exportmarkt. Het gemiddelde maandloon in Roemenië bedraagt 200 dollar. Dit maakt dat de kostprijs van landbouwproducten veel lager is dan in West-Europa. Het land beschikt bovendien over zeehavens, waardoor landbouwproducten goedkoop via coasters naar West Europa getransporteerd kunnen worden, of, via de Donau en andere rivieren, met binnenvaartschepen tot in Rotterdam of Antwerpen.

Dikwijls wordt verondersteld dat de controle op biologische producten uit het voormalige Oostblok te wensen over laat, maar in de praktijk gelden echter dezelfde voorwaarden als voor bedrijven in de EU. Dit betekent twee keer per jaar een inspectie op het Roemeense bedrijf door een internationaal werkende controleur.

Een randbemerking

Voor de recente voedselcrisis heeft de toegenomen belangstelling voor het beleggen in landbouwgrond aangewakkerd. De voedselprijzen op de wereldmarkt zijn vanaf begin 2007 flink gestegen, soms met tientallen procenten. Met name rijst, maïs en graan zijn scherp in prijs gestegen. Er worden verschillende oorzaken genoemd voor het ontstaan van de voedselcrisis, zoals de gestegen vraag naar voedsel uit opkomende economieën als China en India, de gestegen prijs van brandstof en kunstmest en tegenvallende oogsten als gevolg van de klimaatverandering. Ook het gebruik van biobrandstof wordt genoemd. Landbouwgrond wordt namelijk ook ingezet bij de vervaardiging van biobrandstof. Daarnaast hebben zwaar gesubsidieerde voedselproducten uit westerse landen de ontwikkelingslanden overspoeld en de lokale voedselproductie ondermijnd. De hoeveelheid grond is nu eenmaal beperkt. Met name de hoeveelheid vruchtbare landbouwgrond in een gunstig klimaat is schaars. Door de groei van de wereldbevolking en de welvaart en door een grotere vraag naar bio-energie zal de vraag naar landbouwgrond alleen maar gaan toenemen. Twee vliegen in klap als U landbouw gaat bedrijven in Roemenië

4. Investments in agri land in Romania

Romania has 9,7 million hectares and only 30% are used at this moment. Romania is currently supporting the restructuring of its agricultural industry towards a market economy. Only small changes in land use are expected. Self-sufficiency in cereals is expected to increase, consolidating their net export position. In the livestock sector, poultry and pig numbers are expected to recover somewhat, production being boosted by an increasing domestic demand and the availability of cereals on the domestic market. Overall agricultural self-sufficiency will slightly increase and the agriculture and food trade balance will turn positive.

How can we invest in agriculture in Romania and what will be our profit ?

The prices of wheat keeps growing on a global scale in a global market. The cost for operations keeps growing in agriculture in the Benelux and Germany. So if we can produce at a low cost by delocalization to Romania we will gain a lot of money and substantially increase our profit margin.

If we can combine the investment with an investment in agricultural land in Romania that will double or triple in price we have a good investment with a high yield.

In western Europe, acquiring any surface of farmland can be an administrative hassle (to say the least), more expensive, and large surfaces can be difficult to find. Romanian agricultural legislation is more flexible. European subventions are another reason: 50%-70% of the investments made on equipment, buildings, or modernisation of an agricultural operation is paid by European funds and a subvention of more then 100€ per hectare per year (for cereals, different amounts for different types of crops). The risk is the management of the operations not the investment idea and the land behind it.

The price for 1 hectare of Agricultural land in Romania is between 1000 and 2000 Euro per individual hectare at this moment. The prices will triple in the next years until 6000 Euro /hectare in some specific regions in Romania. The information comes from the EVD, agency of foreign affairs in Holland.

"We have Agricultural land for sale at 1000 Euro/hectare (prices VAT not included)"

How to buy Agricultural land in Romania.

Have you tried but failed to find large surfaces of farmland for sale at a reasonable price in Romania? Please read on in any case... most proposals are fake and behind them you will find a lot of hidden problems. We have 9 years experience in the market and we act by doing it and we are leading by example in Romania and Romanian agricultural investments. It is very difficult to find large parcels of farmland for sale in Romania with a good price and the legal paperwork in a condition that you can buy without risks. We have selected a lot of plots over the last years.

According to tradition, Romanian owners have been dividing their property into equal shares between their heirs. Today, a multitude of small surfaces ranging between 0.1 ha and 10 ha result from so many divisions, generation after generation. Larger surfaces are quite rare. We are specialized in compacting procedures and administration. We acquire larger plots for you by compacting surfaces.

How to acquire large surfaces of agricultural land in Romania:

1/ Through a process called "comasare" in Romanian. It signifies the re- groupement (or consolidation) of many small plots of land into one larger surfaces.

2/ By purchase of land already consolidated. Real offers are rare, and more expensive when they exist. On the other hand, these properties can be purchased within a very short time frame (if and when real offers exist).

To consolidate a surface of 1000 hectares for example, you may have to purchase the properties of 500 to 900 separate owners. The procedure can last a few months, depending on the number of sellers involved and their availability to go sign the documents at the notary's office. The buyer, or an agent of the buyer, must remain available to make payment each time a plot is purchased.

We have identified consolidation zones and we have found clients that already own the land in volumes of 1-500 hectares and more. So we gain 1 year of hard work offering the desired surface potential and other buyer-defined criteria.

We start the operations and transfer of the property rights in collaboration with the local authorities, cadastral specialists and experts and start registering the plots for your company. Efforts to regroup the purchased plots into larger surfaces are carried out on a continual basis right from the beginning and we start with plots that are already bought to gain time and money (30% savings on operations !).

When the agricultural land in Romania is consolidated, the value of your farmland will have instantly increased by at 50%.

If you wish, you may opt to sell part of the land to reimburse your acquisition cost. We are at disposal for further information on agricultural land and farming in Romania.

5. How to create a company in Romania

"We create your company in Romania"

A limited liability company is a company formed by a limited number of partners (no more than 50). It is based on the constitutive documents. The registered capital of a limited liability company cannot be less than 200 RON (Romanian LEU). The registered share capital of a limited liability company is normally divided into social parts/shares with a registered value of not less than 10 RON. Shares cannot be freely traded, making limited liability companies similar to what are known as private companies in other legal systems. Shares of these companies cannot be pledged as collateral for loans.

The articles of incorporation of the limited liability company will include:

- the full name, place and date of birth, domicile and citizenship of individuals;
- the name, registered office and nationality of the shareholder, as legal person;
- the type, name, headquarters and, if any, the company logo;
- the object of the company, specifying the main domain of activity;
- the subscribed and paid in registered capital, the shareholders contribution in cash or in kind, the value of the contribution in kind and its valuation method as well as the date of the full payment of the subscribed share capital; the number and nominal value of shares as well as the number of shares subscribed to each associate for his/her contribution;
- the shareholders in charge with the representation and administration of the company or the non-shareholder administrators, individuals or legal persons, and their powers which are to be exercised jointly or separately;
- the share of profits and losses for each shareholder;
- the secondary offices (branches, agencies, representative offices or other such entities with no legal personality) whether or not are established at the same time with the company, or the conditions of their subsequent establishment if such establishment is taken into account;

the duration of the company;
the methods of the dissolution and liquidation of the company.

Decisions are made by majority vote in the General Meeting of the Shareholders (1 share = 1 vote). Decisions involving changes in the constitutive documents must be agreed by all shareholders if these documents do not state otherwise. One or more Directors/Managers are appointed in the constitutive documents or by the General Meeting and are put in charge of the management of the company. Limited liability companies may also be formed by a sole associate. Currently, the majority of companies registered in Romania, whether domestic or foreign-owned, are limited liability companies. A limited liability company is known as a SRL (Societate cu Raspundere Limitata).

8. How to employ Romanian workers in Belgium, Germany or any EU country and make substantial savings per month per worker

Romania has joined the European Union. Since January 2007 the Romanian state improved the mobility of Romanian workers throughout Europe. Per year more than 4 million workers are performing works in foreign countries. The quality of being a member state within EU entitles the citizens of these states to benefit from the four fundamental liberties, for instance, free movement of citizens (persons) which implies also free movement of workers. However the workers still need a E101 form issued by Romanian government if the workers want to work in a European country and get paid by a Romanian company. This creates an advantage and you are able to make savings on your budget. In a period of crisis these considerable savings are more then welcome.
